WILL INSTALL NEW SHOE DEPARTMENT

H. M. Buck Clothing House Expands
Again—Business Has Increased
Rapidly in Five Years

One of the many important new departments to be installed at the H.
M. Buck Clothing House, this spring, will be that in which nothing but shoes will be featured. During the last two months the buyer for the firm has been in the markets of the large cities selecting stock for the new department. As a result of his efforts and good judgment he has purchased what is positively one of the finest, largest and most complete assortments of high grade foot wear for men, women and children ever brought to Rhinelander.

This new department will be in charge of an experienced and competent shoe salesman and patrons will be given the best of service and attention. As is the custom of the concern, it will be its aim and pleasure to please and satisfy all people who come to the store for shoes as well as any other purchase in the line of first class merchandise.

The Buck Clothing company has been engaged in business in Rhinelander for the last five years. During that comparatively short period the firm has gradually expanded from an establishment of minor importance to the largest and most popular clothing store in this city. What has been the cause of this rapid growth? The answer is easy and simple. Merely the fact that the firm has from the first sold only the best goods at the very lowest prices possible. It has not been the policy of the Buck Clothing House to endeavor to make two or three profits on one article but to give the purchaser satisfaction at a reasonable expenditure. It is by these honest and square methods of business dealing that the firm has increased its patronage to such an extent that today the path of all shoppers leads to the Buck Clothing House. In fact the Buck people have with high class goods and low prices revolutionized the clothing business in Rhinelander. Not only is the firm's trade confined to Rhinelander alone but extends to all the neighboring towns within a radius of fifty miles.

Another important thing which has contributed to the firm's phenomenal success and one in which all live merchants have unbounded faith, is the liberal use of printer's ink. Mr. Levitt, the always hustling and enterprising advertising manager, has spared neither time, effort or money to place the store in a conspicuous and attractive manner before the public.
He is firm in his belief that it brings quick and profitable results.
Through the local papers and other good advertising mediums he has brought the "Store that sets the pace" before the people so prominently that to-day the name H. M. Buck is a household word throughout this part of the country.

CHILD CHOKES TO DEATH

Little Son of Vincent Gnat Is Victim of Sad Accident.

The little four year old son of Mr.
and Mrs. Vincent Gnat, who live south of the city, choked to death Saturday noon on a tiny miniature horn which the child placed in its mouth and accidentally went down his throat lodging in the trachea.

The child was playing on the second floor of the house and Mrs.
Gnat was busy about her household duties in the kitchen. Black in the face and gasping for breath the little one came running down the stairway and fell into his terrified mother's arms. Realizing at once what had occurred the woman lost no time in calling a physician after which she attempted to extract the object from the child's mouth but with no success. Upon the arrival of Dr. Stone, a few minutes later, the boy was dead. An examination showed that the plaything had lodged so firmly in the throat that nothing but a delicate surgical operation could have removed it.

The case is a very sad one and the parents are nearly prostrated with grief.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from St. Mary's church.

ST. PATRICK'S DINNER

TAFT INAUGURATED

COPYRIGHT, 1908, BY PACB BROS., N.Y.

WILLIAM H. TAFT, TWENTY-SEVENTH PRESIDENT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., MARCH 4.—(SPECIAL TO THE NEW NORTH)—In one of the worst storms that has raged in Washington this year, Wm. H.
Taft was inaugurated president of the United States at noon today. Owing to the severe weather the oath of office had to be administered in the Senate chamber and it was here where the new president read his inaugural address. Pennsylvania Avenue was covered with snow to such a depth that a large crew of laborers was set to work clearing a passage way to allow the inaugural parade to pass from the Capitol to the White House.

Ex-President Roosevelt left Washington at 3 p. m. for his home at Oyster Bay. He was escorted to the railway station by the band playing "Auld Lang Syne."

President Taft's inaugural address appears on page six of this issue.

STEPHENSON ELECTED.

MADISON, WIS., MARCH 4, 1909 P. M. (SPECIAL TO THE NEW NORTH).— Isaac Stephenson was re-elected U. S. Senator this noon at the joint session of the Legislature receiving sixty three of the one hundred twenty three votes cast.

The people of the state of Wisconsin represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

in the treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of one dollar.

Section 2. Such board shall cause to be prepared full plans and specifications and estimates for the building and equipment necessary to properly establish and organize such school. For the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this section there is appropriated out of any money in the general fund not otherwise appropriated to the normal school fund income, the sum of five thousand necessary to carry out such provisions.

fect and be in force from and after

CARLSON'S DEATH NO LONGER A MYSTERY

Authorities Satisfied that Hackley Man Died From Natural Causes—Investigation Dropped

The Oneida county authorities have decided to drop further investigation of the death of Ole Carlson as it now develops that the man died from natural causes and not from poisoning as was first suspected.

Acting under instructions from the sheriff's office Axel Lindegren while at Hackley, last Friday, made a thorough inquisition into the affair and learned sufficient facts to convince the officials in Rhinelander that there was nothing to command suspicion in regard to Carlson's demise.

The man had been employed by the lumber company at Hackley and while at work one day fell off the top of a car. His injuries, at the time, were not considered of a serious nature but a day or two later he complained of not feeling well, and drawing what money he had due him from the company, made preparations to come to the hospital in this city.
Just before train time he suffered an epileptic fit from which it seems he never rallied. Frank Wlezorek, the barber at Hackley, volunteered to accompany the sick man to Rhinelander and place him in the hospital.

Knowing nothing of the nature of malady with which Carlson was afflicted and owing to the further fact that the circumstances under which the man was brought to the hospital incited suspicion, Dr. Packard who was called on the case, refused to sign the death certificate. This action resulted in an investigation.

From information gathered by Mr.
Lindegren from various Hackley people it appears that Carlson was an epileptic from childhood. This affection combined with the injuries which he probably received in the fall from the car no doubt resulted in the young man's death.

The chemists at Chicago to whom Carlson's stomach was sent for analysis wrote the authorities that the examination would cost one hundred dollars. Fortunately they would not perform the work until making certain of the money and the county was thus saved from another needless expenditure.

Had Mr. Wlezorek, the man who accompanied Carlson to the hospital, not acted so mysterious about the case and requested The New North man not to mention the matter in the paper, it is doubtless if an investigation would have resulted and a bill of expense imposed upon the county.

APPOINTED PAROLE OFFICER

Joseph M. Seibel, ex-sheriff of Marlnette county, was in the city a few days of the week the guest of his brothers P. F. and A. B. Seibel. Mr.
Seibel was recently appointed state parole officer, a new office lately created. His duties consist of keeping in touch with all paroled prisoners from the state penal institutions for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not they are living up to the agreements of their parole. Prisoners found violating any of the regulations of the parole are returned to serve out their time.

EASILY MIXED KIDNEY RECIPE

Effective Home-Made Medicine for Kidneys and the Bladder

What will appear very interesting to many people here is the article taken from a New York daily paper, giving simple prescription, which is said to be a positive remedy for headache or kidney or bladder derangement, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. Shake well in a bottle and take in teaspoonful doses after each meal and again at bedtime.

A well-known druggist here at home, when asked regarding this prescription, stated that the ingredients are all harmless, and can be obtained at a small cost from any good prescription pharmacy, or the mixture would be put up if asked to do so. He further stated that while this prescription is often prescribed in rheumatic afflictions with splendid results, he could see no reason why it would not be a splendid remedy for kidney and urinary troubles and backache, as it has a peculiar action upon the kidney structure, cleansing these most important organs and helping them to sift and filter from the blood the foul acids and waste matter which cause sickness and suffering. Those of our readers who suffer can make no mistake in giving it a trial.

FROM NEARBY TOWNS

Merrill—August Brocknow, a farmer of the town of Corning, fell off his sleigh into the road breaking his neck. His body was found by a party of friends.

Ladysmith—In circuit court H. R. Karstens was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary for assaulting Cameron Drake, his employer, with a pitchfork. James Jasmonka was given twenty months in the reformatory for forgery.

Barron—John Till, the plaster-on-the-back healer at Almena, was quarantined for small pox last Friday. It is said the disease has existed in his headquarters for three weeks and that Till slept with one of the small pox patients and treated his usual number of 175 to 200 regular patients during the day.

Tomahawk—Plans are under consideration to enlarge the plant of the Tomahawk Woodenware Company. The plans in mind include a new factory building and more machinery and the employment of 150 to 200 men. At present the factory is closed for an indefinite period.

Hurley—Steps have been taken to form a new town out of territory comprising the town of Vaughan. The new town is to be known as Cary. The matter will be heard before Judge Parish at Ashland on March 29.

Crandon—The Wisconsin & Northern road is to complete the building of its line from this city to Crandon in the spring. A large force of laborers will be employed on this extension and the work will be rushed.

Wausau—The proposition to increase the salaries of the members of the police and fire departments was voted down by the city council.

LEADER IN CONSUMPTION LAWS.

Wisconsin Leads Other States in Great Tuberculosis Fight.

That Wisconsin is not behind in the official campaign it is carrying on against tuberculosis, is shown in a report just issued by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis on legislation concerning consumption in the United States.

Wisconsin has made a careful official study of tuberculosis through a special commission appointed in 1903. A State Sanatorium has been built at Wales. And most important, the National Association claims, Wisconsin has an admirable law requiring that tuberculosis cases be reported and registered, as is done with other infectious diseases. The laws governing tuberculosis, bovine and human, won for Wisconsin the first prize at the recent International Congress on Tuberculosis, and have served as models for laws in many other States.

As compared with the other states, Wisconsin is one of the twelve states which have laws compelling the reporting and registration of tuberculosis cases. The other states are Maryland, New York, Vermont, Washington, District of Columbia, California, Indiana, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts and Utah. The first five of these states have separate and special laws dealing with tuberculosis alone. The other six, class tuberculosis with the infectious diseases, and as such require its reporting. Wisconsin is in the latter class, but the law in this state has in addition several special sections pertaining to tuberculosis.

Good Cough Medicine for Children
The season for coughs and colds is now at hand and too much care cannot be used to protect the children. A child is much more likely to contract diphtheria or scarlet fever when he has a cold. The quicker you cure his cold the less the risk. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the sole reliance of many mothers and few of those who have tried it are willing to use any other. Mrs. F. F. Starcher of Ripley, W. Va., says, "I have never used anything other than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for my children, and it has always given good satisfaction." This remedy contains no opium or other narcotic and may be given as confidentially to a child as to an adult. For sale by F. L. Hinman.

BALD HEADS NOT WANTED

Baldness is Too Generally Considered a Sign of Advanced Age

A bald headed person does not have an equal chance with one blessed with a healthy head of hair, because baldness is too generally accepted as an indication of age. Many large corporations have established an age limit, and refuse to take men over 35 years of age as new employees.

Almost 65% of bald headed people may regain a good head of healthy hair if they will follow our advice and accept our offer. We have a remedy that we positively guarantee to grow hair on any head, unless the roots of the hair are entirely dead, their follicles closed, and the scalp has become glazed and shiny. We want people to try this remedy at our risk, with the distinct understanding that unless it does exactly what we claim it will, and gives satisfaction in every respect we will make no charge for the remedy used during the trial.

We know exactly what we are talking about, and with this offer back of our statements no one should scoff, doubt our word or hesitate to put our remedy to an actual test.

We want everyone in Rhinelander who is suffering from any scalp or hair trouble, dandruff, falling hair or baldness to try our Rexall "33" Hair Tonic. We want them to use it regularly—say until three bottles have been used—and if it does not eradicate dandruff, cleanse and refresh the scalp, tighten the hair in its roots, and grow new hair, we will return every cent paid for the remedy for the mere asking. There is no formality expected, and we exact no obligation from the user whatever.

We are established right here in Rhinelander and make this offer with a full understanding that our business success entirely depends upon the sort of treatment we accord our customers and we would not dare make the above offer unless we were positively certain that we could substantiate it in every particular.—J. J. Reardon, Rhinelander, Wis.

Nobody ever knows what you have for sale."

ECZEMA CURABLE? PROVEN!

Attorney at Moline, Ill., Convinced by Oil of Wintergreen Compound
There is nothing that will convince a lawyer except evidence.
Now, here is some rather startling evidence of a simple home cure for eczema which convinced one lawyer, F. C. Entriaken, attorney at Moline, Ill. He tells how oil of wintergreen compound mixed with thymol and glycerine, as in D. D. Prescription, cured him in thirty days after thirty-two years of suffering.
"For 32 years," writes Attorney Entriaken, "I was troubled with eczema, scabs all over my face, body and head. I could run a hair brush over my body and the floor would be covered with scales enough to fill a basket. I tried everything—salves, internal medicine, X-Ray—all without result."
"Just a month ago I was induced to try D. D. Prescription. The itch was relieved instantly, so I continued. It is just a month now and I am completely cured. I have not a particle of itch and the scales have dropped off."
"I can only say again CURE DISCOVERED. I am now starting all eczema sufferers on the right track."
Cure after cure has been brought to our attention and always that instant relief from the awful itch. 118-m11 F. L. Hlman & Co.

F. A. LOWELL, Editor and Manager
HARRY SLOSSEN, Local Editor.

MARCH 4, 1909.

Local politics are beginning to warm up. If half of the men become candidates who are talked of there will be plenty of good timber for the offices.

Uncle Ike's troubles are over; he is at last elected United States Senator by a bare majority. From the first

It was evident that Mr. Stephenson's lieutenants would use all their powers to bring about his election at the earliest possible moment and do all they could to belittle the investigation. If Senator Stephenson thinks there is any honor in this election he is welcome to it.

William H. Taft is now president of the United States. We hope he will be as an official all that ex-President Roosevelt wishes for him.

Roosevelt, though rich, has been bold for the masses of the people and has opened their eyes to the corruption of the great corporations. He has set the pace, if Mr. Taft continues the good work he will have the approbation of the people. His training and associations thoroughly fit him for the high office to which he has been elected.

The authorities of various cities thru-out the country have started a vigorous campaign against managers of theatres compelling them to cease the practice of over crowding their play houses. We are pleased to note that in Rhineland the managers of the Grand Opera House have lately refused to allow the sale of standing room tickets at Saturday night morning picture shows. This step was taken upon the advice of the authorities and we believe the management will continue to abide by the new rule. But should they fail to do so we will not hesitate to severely criticize them. To tax a theatre to the "standing room only" limit is unsafe to say the least.

IS HE CONSISTENT?

One of the principles on which W. C. Hewitt is pushing his candidacy is that no person should hold the office of state superintendent for more than two terms, hitting the present state superintendent C. P. Cary. Another assertion is that no one who has occupied an appointive position in the office, should resign to become a candidate, thus giving a slap at L. W. Wood, former rural school inspector.

It is a fact that the work of L. W. Wood as rural school inspector was so efficient that many appeals were made upon him to become a candidate by those who wish to see a champion of the rural school in the office of state superintendent.

From all that we can learn of all the four candidates we unhesitatingly would favor L. W. Wood for the position of state superintendent.—Wau-paca Republican Post.

BUYS RESIDENCE PROPERTY
W. F. Ball has sold his home at 112 Fifth street to A. E. Weesner. This is one of the finest residence locations in Rhineland.

In All Departments Our Spring Stock Is the Best We Have Shown

Dry goods selling, to be successful, must be progressive. Last year's "good enough" would be considered second rate this year. The failure of some dealers to recognize this truth accounts for the lack of growth in some stores. We aim to improve this business all the time—to make this a better store in which to exchange good coin for good dry goods. As we say at the head of this ad, "Our spring stock is the best we have ever shown," and it is a fact. The stock more than backs up the assertion.

A portion of the land is located within the city limits and the electric cars pass by the door. Mr. Ross intends to not only devote his time to tilling the soil but will also engage in stock raising. He has already shipped a carload of fine stock from this city to the farm.

During Mr. Ross' long residence in Rhinelander he has been one of our most worthy and substantial citizens and he and his family have many friends who regret their departure.

Benson and Lenere, Mr. Ross' successors are both experienced in their line and for a number of years have been connected with the Ross shop. It will be their aim to give satisfaction and the large patronage which the shop has always had will no doubt continue with the new firm.

SON DEAD, FATHER IN WOODS

Michael Redmond Can't be Found to Attend His Boy's Funeral.

At all the logging camps in this vicinity a search has been made to find Michael Redmond whose eldest son, Patrick E. Redmond is dead at Fond du Lac.

The boy died several days ago and the distracted mother has exhausted every effort known to her or advised by friends for informing her husband of the death. Numerous telegrams and letters have been sent to logging contractors in this part of the state, but nothing regarding the man's whereabouts can be learned.

As the result of the absence of Mr. Redmond no arrangements have been made for the funeral of his son and it is now feared that the father may also be dead. Redmond is about fifty years old, and for several years has spent the winter in the woods, returning home in the spring to conduct his farm.

Among the woodsmen who frequent Rhinelander one or two are known by the name of Redmond but friends say they are single men and that their homes are not at Fond du Lac.

FIREMEN ENTERTAIN.

About thirty former city firemen, present members of the department, aldermen and city officials made merry with the members of hose company number one at their headquarters, Saturday evening.

The festivities were in celebration of the opening of the new hose house. Cards were one of the features of the evening and at a late hour a three course supper was served. The feast was prepared by the chef at Henning's cafe and consisted of all the good things of the season.

Mayor Anderle, who was present, made a few well chosen remarks appropriate to the occasion and was responded to fittingly by Hans Anderson, president of the council.

The hands of the clock were approaching the mid-night hour when the guests departed for their homes all voicing the joys of hose company number one royal entertainers.

BASKET BALL.

Two games of basket ball will be played in the Armory to-morrow evening. The contestants are the Antigo High school, girls vs. the Rhinelander High school girls, and the boys teams of both schools. Admission 25 cents.

THE COUNTY JUDGESHIP.

Billings unanimously elected to the place. Petitions favoring his candidacy are being circulated in each town of the county.

THE first week in April, at the time of our city election, the voters of Oneida county will choose a probate judge for the ensuing four years. Levi J. Billings, present incumbent of the position, is a candidate for the place, and so far as is known, there is no opposition. We understand that the bar of the county is in favor of continuing Judge Billings in the position, and The New North has no hesitancy in saying that it believes that the duties of the office are well cared for by Mr. Billings. He is at all times ready to discharge its duties and he is eminently able to perform them. We hope to see Judge

TAFT'S INAUGURAL ADDRESS

Outlines Policy of Administration.

PRAISE FOR ROOSEVELT

Speech Begins With Advocacy of Predecessor's Reforms.

MANY QUESTIONS TOUCHED.

Incoming President's Ideas on Trusts and Other Matters.

My Fellow Citizens—Any one who takes the oath I have just taken must feel a heavy weight of responsibility. If not, he has no conception of the powers and duties of the office upon which he is about to enter or he is lacking in a proper sense of the obligation which the oath imposes.

The office of an inaugural address is to give a summary outline of the main policies of the new administration so far as they can be anticipated. I have had the honor to be one of the advisers of my distinguished predecessor and as such to hold up his hands in the reforms he has initiated. I should be untrue to myself, to my promises and to the declarations of the party platform upon which I was elected to office if I did not make the maintenance and enforcement of those reforms a most important feature of my administration. They were directed to the suppression of the lawlessness and abuses of power of the great combinations of capital forested in railroads and in industrial enterprises carrying on interstate commerce. The steps which my predecessor took and the legislation passed on his recommendation have accomplished much, have caused a general halt in the vicious policies which created popular alarm and have brought about in the business affected a much higher regard for existing law.

Further Action Needed.
To render the reforms lasting, however, and to secure at the same time freedom from alarm on the part of those pursuing proper and progressive business methods further legislative and executive action are needed. Relief of the railroads from certain restrictions of the anti-trust law have been urged by my predecessor and will be urged by me. On the other hand, the administration is pledged to legislation looking to a proper federal supervision and restriction to prevent excessive issues of bonds and stocks by companies owning and operating interstate commerce railroads.
Then, too, a reorganization of the department of justice, of the bureau of corporations in the department of commerce and labor and of the interstate commerce commission looking to effective co-operation of these agencies is needed to secure a more rapid and certain enforcement of the laws affecting interstate railroads and industrial combinations.
I hope to be able to submit at the first regular session of the incoming congress in December next definite suggestions in respect to the needed amendments to the anti-trust and the interstate commerce law and the changes required in the executive departments concerned in their enforcement.

"Good and Bad Trusts."

It is believed that with the changes to be recommended American business can be assured of that measure of stability and certainty in respect to those things that may be done and those that are prohibited, which is essential to the life and growth of all business. Such a plan must include the right of the people to avail themselves of the most efficient combination of capital and effort to do necessary work, at the same time differentiating between combinations based upon legitimate economic reasons and those formed with the intent of creating monopolies and artificially controlling prices.

The work of formulating into practical shape such changes is creative work of the highest order and requires all the deliberation possible in the interval. I believe that the amendments to be proposed are just as necessary in the protection of legitimate business as in the clashing of the reforms which properly bear the name of my predecessor.

Revision of the Tariff.

A matter of most pressing importance is the revision of the tariff. In accordance with the promises of the platform upon which I was elected, I shall call congress into extra session to meet on the 15th day of March, in order that consideration may be at once given to a bill revising the Dingley act. This should secure an adequate revenue and adjust the duties in such a manner as to afford to labor and to all industries in this country, whether of the farm, mine or factory, protection by tariff equal to the difference between the cost of production abroad and the cost of production here and have a provision which shall put into force, upon executive determination of certain facts, a higher or maximum tariff against those countries whose trade policy toward us equitably requires such discrimination. It is thought that there has been such a change in conditions since the enactment of the Dingley act, drafted on a similarly protective principle, that the measure of the tariff above stated will permit the reduction of rates in certain schedules and will require the advancement of few, if any.

The proposal to revise the tariff made in such an authoritative way as to lead the business community to count upon it necessarily halts all those branches of business directly affected, and as these are most important it disturbs the whole business of the country. It is imperative, therefore, that a tariff bill be drawn in good faith in accordance with promises made before the election by the party in power and as promptly passed as due consideration will permit.

Inheritance Tax Advocated.

In the making of a tariff bill the prime motive is taxation and the securing thereby of a revenue. Due largely to the business depression which followed the financial panic of 1907, the revenue from customs and other sources has decreased to such an extent that the expenditures for the current fiscal year will exceed the receipts by $100,000,000. It is imperative that such a deficit shall not continue, and the framers of the tariff bill must of course have in mind the total revenues likely to be produced by it and so arrange the duties as to secure an adequate income. Should it be impossible to do so by import duties new kinds of taxation must be adopted, and among these I recommend a graduated inheritance tax as correct in principle and as certain and easy of collection.

Government Economy Urged.

The obligation on the part of those responsible for the expenditures made to carry on the government to be as economical as possible and to make the burden of taxation as light as possible is plain and should be affirmed in every declaration of government policy. This is especially true when we are face to face with a heavy deficit. But when the desire to win the popular approval leads to the cutting off of expenditures really needed to make the government effective and to enable it to accomplish its proper objects the result is as much to be condemned as the waste of government funds in unnecessary expenditure.

In the department of agriculture the use of scientific experiments on a large scale and the spread of information derived from them for the improvement of general agriculture must go on.

The importance of supervising business of great railways and industrial combinations and the necessary investigation and prosecution of unlawful business methods are another necessary tax upon government which did not exist half a century ago.

Proper Forms of Expenditure.

The putting into force of laws which shall secure the conservation of our resources so far as they may be within the jurisdiction of the federal government, including the most important work of saving and restoring our forests, and the great improvement of waterways are all proper government functions which must involve large expenditure if properly performed. While some of them, like the reclamation of arid lands, are made to pay for themselves, others are of such an indirect benefit that this cannot be expected of them. A permanent improvement, like the Panama canal, should be treated as a distinct enterprise and should be paid for by the proceeds of bonds, the issue of which will distribute its cost between the present and future generations in accordance with the benefits derived. It may well be submitted to the serious consideration of congress whether the deepening and control of the channel of a great river system like that of the Ohio or of the Mississippi when definite and practical plans for the enterprise have been approved and determined upon should not be provided for in the same way.

Then, too, there are expenditures of government absolutely necessary if our country is to maintain its proper place among the nations of the world and is to exercise its proper influence in defense of its own trade interests in the maintenance of traditional American policy against the colonization of European monarchies in this hemisphere and in the promotion of peace and international morality. I refer to the cost of maintaining a proper army, a proper navy and suitable fortifications upon the mainland of the United States and in its dependencies.

The Army and Navy.

We should have an army so organized and so officered as to be capable in time of emergency in co-operation with the national militia and under the provisions of a proper national volunteer law rapidly to expand into a force sufficient to resist all probable invasion from abroad and to furnish a respectable expeditionary force, if necessary, in the maintenance of our traditional American policy which bears the name of President Monroe.

Our fortifications are yet in a state of only partial completeness, and the number of men to man them is insufficient. In a few years, however, the usual annual appropriations for our coast defenses, both on the mainland and in the dependencies, will make them sufficient to resist all direct attack, and by that time we may hope that the men to man them will be provided as a necessary adjunct. The distance of our shores from Europe and Asia, of course, reduces the necessity for maintaining under arms a great army, but it does not take away the requirement of mere prudence, that we should have an army sufficiently large and so constituted as to form a nucleus out of which a suitable force can quickly grow.

What has been said of the army may be affirmed in even a more emphatic way of the navy. A modern navy cannot be improvised. It must be built and in existence when the emergency arises which calls for its use and operation. My distinguished predecessor has in many speeches and messages set out with great force and striking language the necessity for maintaining a strong navy commensurate with the coast line, the governmental resources and the foreign trade of our nation, and I wish to reiterate all the reasons which he has presented in favor of the policy of maintaining a strong navy as the best conservator of our peace with other nations and the best means of securing respect for the assertion of our rights, the defense of our interests and the exercise of our influence in international matters.

Must Arm as Other Nations Do.

Our international policy is always to promote peace. We shall enter into any war with a full consciousness of the awful consequences that it always entails, whether successful or not, and we, of course, shall make every effort, consistent with national honor and the highest national interest, to avoid a resort to arms. We favor every instrumentality, like that of The Hague tribunal and arbitration treaties made with a view to its use in all international controversies, in order to maintain peace and to avoid war. But we should be blind to existing conditions and should allow ourselves to become foolish idealists if we did not realize that, with all the nations of the world armed and prepared for war, we must be ourselves in a similar condition in order to prevent other nations from taking advantage of us and of our inability to defend our interests and assert our rights with a strong hand. In the international controversies that are likely to arise in the orient, growing out of the question of the open door and other issues, the United States can maintain her interests intact and can secure respect for her just demands. She will not be able to do so, however, if it is understood that she never intends to back up her assertion of right and her defense of her interest by anything but mere verbal protest and diplomatic note. For these reasons the expenses of the army and navy and of coast defenses should always be considered as something which the government must pay for, and they should not be cut off through mere consideration of economy. Our government is able to afford a suitable army and a suitable navy. It may maintain them without the slightest danger to the republic or the cause of free institutions, and fear of additional taxation ought not to change a proper policy in this regard.

Protection For Our Citizens Abroad.

The policy of the United States in the Spanish war and since has given it a position of influence among the nations that it never had before and should be constantly exerted to securing to its bona fide citizens, whether native or naturalized, respect for them as such in foreign countries. We should make every effort to prevent humiliating and degrading prohibition against any of our citizens wishing temporarily to sojourn in foreign countries because of race or religion.

The Japanese Question.

The admission of Asiatic immigrants who cannot be assimilated with our population has been made the subject either of prohibitory clauses in our treaties and statutes or of strict administrative regulation secured by diplomatic negotiations. I sincerely hope that we may continue to minimize the evils likely to arise from such immigration without unnecessary friction and by mutual concessions between self respecting governments. Meantime we must take every precaution to prevent or, failing that, to punish our people against foreigners of whatever nationality who have by our grant a treaty right to pursue lawful business here and to be protected against lawless assault or injury.

This leads me to point out a serious defect in the present federal jurisdiction which ought to be remedied at once. Having assured to other countries by treaty the protection of our laws for such of their subjects or citizens as we permit to come within our jurisdiction, we now leave to a state or a city not under the control of the federal government the duty of performing in this respect. By proper legislation we may and ought to place in the hands of the federal executive the means of enforcing the treaty rights of such aliens in the courts of the federal government. It puts our government in a pusillanimous position to make definite engagements to protect aliens and then to excuse the failure to perform those engagements by an explanation that the duty to keep them is in states or cities not within our control. If we would promise, we must put ourselves in a position to perform our promise. We cannot permit the possible failure of justice due to local prejudice in any state or municipal government to expose us to the risk of a war which might be avoided if federal jurisdiction was asserted by suitable legislation by congress and carried out by proper proceedings instituted by the executive in the courts of the national government.

Monetary Laws Need Change.

One of the reforms to be carried out during the incoming administration is a change of our monetary and banking laws so as to secure greater elasticity in the forms of currency available for trade and to prevent the limitations of law from operating to increase the embarrassments of a financial panic. The monetary commission lately appointed is giving full consideration to existing conditions and to all proposed remedies and will doubtless suggest one that will meet the requirements of business and of public interest. We may hope that the report will embody neither the narrow view of those who believe that the sole purpose of the new system should be to secure a large return on banking capital nor of those who would have greater expansion of currency with little regard to provisions for its immediate redemption or ultimate security. There is no subject of economic discussion so intricate and so likely to evoke differing views and dogmatic statements as this one. The commission in studying the general influence of currency on business and of business on currency have wisely extended their investigations in European banking and monetary methods. The information that they have derived from such experts as they have found abroad will undoubtedly be found helpful in the solution of the difficult problem they have in hand.

Favors Postal Savings Banks.

The incoming congress should promptly fulfill the promise of the Republican platform and pass a proper postal savings bank bill. It will not be unwise or excessive paternalism. The promise to repay by the government will furnish an inducement to savings deposits which private enterprise cannot supply and at such a low rate of interest as not to withdraw custom from existing banks. It will substantially increase the funds available for investment as capital in useful enterprises. It will furnish the absolute security which makes the proposed scheme of government guaranty of deposits so alluring without its perilous results.

Ship Subsidies Advocated.

I sincerely hope that the incoming congress will be alive, as it should be, to the importance of our foreign trade and of encouraging it in every way feasible. The possibility of increasing this trade in the orient, in the Philippines and in South America is known to every one who has given the matter attention. The direct effect of free trade between this country and the Philippines will be marked upon our sale of cottons, agricultural machinery and other manufactures. The necessity of the establishment of direct lines of steamers between North and South America has been brought to the attention of congress by my predecessor and by Mr. Root before and after his noteworthy visit to that continent, and I sincerely hope that congress may be induced to see the wisdom of a tentative effort to establish such lines by the use of mail subsidies.

The importance which the department of agriculture and of commerce and labor may play in ridding the markets of Europe of prohibitions and discriminations against the importation of our products is fully understood, and it is hoped that the use of the maximum and minimum feature of our tariff law to be soon passed will be effective to remove many of these restrictions.

Lock Canal Plan Defended.

The Panama canal will have a most important bearing upon the trade between the eastern and the far western sections of our country and will greatly increase the facilities for transportation between the eastern and the western seaboard and may possibly revolutionize the transcontinental rates with respect to bulky merchandise. It will also have a most beneficial effect to increase the trade between the eastern seaboard of the United States and the western coast of South America and indeed with some of the important ports of the east coast of South America reached by rail from the west coast. The work on the canal is making most satisfactory progress. The type of the canal as a lock canal was fixed by congress after a full consideration of the conflicting reports of the majority and minority of the consulting board and after the recommendation of the war department and the executive upon those reports. Recent suggestion that something had occurred on the isthmus to make the lock type of the canal less feasible than it was supposed to be when the reports were made and the policy determined on led to a visit to the isthmus of a board of competent engineers to examine the Gatun dam and locks which are the key of the lock type. The report of that board shows that nothing has occurred in the nature of newly revealed evidence which should change the views once formed in the original discussion. The construction will go on under a most effective organization controlled by Colonel Goethals and his fellow army engineers associated with him and will certainly be completed early in the next administration, if not before.

Some type of canal must be constructed. The lock type has been selected. We are all in favor of having it built as promptly as possible. We must not now, therefore, keep up a fire in the rear of the agents whom we have authorized to do our work on the isthmus. We must hold up our hands, and, speaking for the incoming administration, I wish to say that I propose to devote all the energy possible and under my control to the pushing of this work on the plans which have been adopted and to stand behind the men who are doing faithful hard work to bring about the early completion of this the greatest constructive enterprise of modern times.

Free Trade With Philippines.

The governments of our dependencies in Porto Rico and the Philippines are progressing as favorably as could be desired. The prosperity of Porto Rico continues unabated. The business conditions in the Philippines are not all that we could wish them to be, but with the passage of the new tariff bill permitting free trade between the United States and the archipelago, with such limitations in sugar and tobacco as shall prevent injury to the domestic interests on those products, we can count on an improvement in business conditions in the Philippines and the development of a mutually profitable trade between this country and the islands. Meantime our government in each dependency is upholding the traditions of civil liberty and increasing popular control, which might be expected under American auspices. The work which we are doing there redounds to our credit as a nation.

Words of Friendship For the South.

I look forward with hope to increase the already good feeling between the south and the other sections of the country. My chief purpose is not to effect a change in the electoral vote of the southern states. That is a secondary consideration. What I look forward to is an increase in the tolerance of political views of all kinds and the existence of a respectable political opposition in every state—ever more than this, to an increased feeling on the part of all the people in the south that this government is their government and that its officers are their states are their officers.

The Negro Question.

The consideration of this question cannot, however, be complete and full without reference to the negro race in its progress and its present condition. The thirteenth amendment secured them freedom, the fourteenth amendment due process of law, protection of property and the pursuit of happiness, and the fifteenth amendment attempted to secure the negro against any deprivation of the privilege to vote because he was a negro. The thirteenth and fourteenth amendments have been generally enforced and have secured the objects for which they were intended. While the fifteenth amendment has not been generally observed in the past, it ought to be observed, and the tendency of southern legislation today is toward the enactment of electoral qualifications which shall square with that amendment.

No Repeal of Fifteenth Amendment.

Of course the mere adoption of a constitutional law is only one step in the right direction. It must be fairly and justly enforced as well. In time both will come. Hence it is clear to all that the domination of an ignorant, irresponsible element can be prevented by constitutional laws which shall exclude from voting both negroes and whites not having education or other qualifications thought to be necessary for a proper electorate. The danger of the control of an ignorant electorate has therefore passed. With this change the interest which many of the southern white citizens take in the welfare of the negroes has increased. The colored men must base their hope on the results of their own industry, self restraint, thrift and business success as well as upon the aid and comfort and sympathy which they may receive from their white neighbors of the south. There was a time when northern whites who sympathized with the negro in his necessary struggle for better conditions sought to give to him the suffrage as a protection and to enforce his exercise against the prevailing sentiment of the south. The movement proved to be a failure. What remains is the fifteenth amendment to the constitution and the right to have statutes of states specifying qualifications for electors subjected to the test of compliance with that amendment. This is a great protection to the negro. It never will be repealed, and it never ought to be repealed. If it had not been passed it might be difficult now to adopt it, but with it in our fundamental law the policy of southern legislation must and will tend to obey it and so long as the statutes of the states meet the test of this amendment and are not otherwise in conflict with the constitution and laws of the United States it is not the disposition of the federal government to interfere with the regulation by southern states of their domestic affairs.

"Negro Is Now American."

There is in the south a stronger feeling than ever among the intelligent, well to do and influential element in favor of the industrial education of the negro and the encouragement of the race to make themselves useful members of the community. The progress which the negro has made in the last fifty years from slavery, from its statistics are reviewed, is marvelous, and it furnishes every reason to hope that in the next twenty-five years a still greater improvement in his condition as a productive member of society, on the farm and in the shop and in other occupations, may come. The negroes are now Americans. Their ancestors came here years ago against their will, and this is their only country and their only flag. They have shown themselves anxious to live for it and to die for it. Encountering the race feeling against them, subjected at times to cruel injustice growing out of it, they may well have our profound sympathy and aid in the struggle they are making. We are charged with the sacred duty of making their path as smooth and easy as we can. Any recognition of their distinguished men, any appointment to office from among their number, is properly taken as an encouragement and an appreciation of their progress, and this just policy shall be pursued.

The Appointment of Negroes.

But it may well admit of doubt whether in case of any race an appointment of one of their number to a local office in a community in which the race feeling is so widespread and acute as to interfere with the ease and facility with which the local government business can be done by the appointee is of sufficient benefit by way of encouragement to the race to outweigh the recurrence and increase of race feeling which such an appointment is likely to engender. Therefore the executive in recognizing the negro race by appointments must exercise a careful discretion not thereby to do more harm than good. On the other hand, we must be careful not to encourage the mere pretense of race feeling manufactured in the interest of individual political ambition.

No Race Feeling In White House.

Personally I have not the slightest race prejudice or feeling, and recognition of its existence only awakens in my heart a deeper sympathy for those who have to bear it or suffer from it, and I question the wisdom of a policy which is likely to increase it. Meantime, if nothing is done to prevent, a better feeling between the negroes and the whites in the south will continue to grow, and more and more of the white people will come to realize that the future of the south is to be much benefited by the industrial and intellectual progress of the negro. The exercise of political franchises by those of his race who are intelligent and well to do will be acquiesced in, and the right to vote will be withheld only from the ignorant and irresponsible of both races.

The Labor Question.

There is one other matter to which I shall refer. It was made the subject of great controversy during the election and calls for at least a passing reference now. My distinguished predecessor has given much attention to the cause of labor, with whose struggle for better things he has shown the sincerest sympathy. At his instance congress has passed the bill fixing the liability of interstate carriers to their employees for injury sustained in the course of employment, abolishing the rule of fellow servant and the common law rule as to contributory negligence and substituting therefor the so called rule of comparative negligence. It has also passed a law fixing the compensation of government employees for injuries sustained in the employ of the government through the negligence of the superior. It also passed a model child labor law for the District of Columbia. In previous administrations an arbitration law for interstate commerce railroads and their employees and laws for the application of safety devices to save the lives and limbs of employees of interstate railroads had been passed. Additional legislation of this kind was passed by the outgoing congress.

I wish to say that, in so far as I can, I hope to promote the enactment of further legislation of this character. I am strongly convinced that the government should make itself as responsible to employees injured in its employ as an interstate railway corporation is made responsible by federal law to its employees, and I shall be glad, whenever any additional reasonable safety device can be invented to reduce the loss of life and limb among railway employees, to urge congress to require its adoption by interstate railways.

Use of Injunctions Necessary.

Another labor question has arisen which has awakened the most excited discussion. That is in respect to the power of the federal courts to issue injunctions in industrial disputes. As to that, my convictions are fixed. Take away from courts, if it could be taken away, the power to issue injunctions in labor disputes, and it would create a privileged class among the laborers and save the lawless among their number from a most needed remedy available to all men for the protection of their business against lawless invasion. The proposition that business is not a property or pecuniary right which can be protected by equitable injunction is utterly without foundation in precedent or reason. The proposition is usually linked with one to make the secondary boycott lawful. Such a proposition is at variance with the American instinct and will find no support, in my judgment, when submitted to the American people. The secondary boycott is not an instrument of tyranny and ought not to be made legitimate.

The issuing of a temporary restraining order without notice has in several instances been abused by its inconsiderate exercise, and to remedy this the platform upon which I was elected recommends the formulation in a statute of the conditions under which such a temporary restraining order ought to issue. A statute can and ought to be framed to embody the best modern practice and can bring the subject so closely to the attention of the court as to make abuses of the process unlikely in the future. American people, if I understand them, insist that the authority of the courts shall be sustained and are opposed to any change in the procedure by which the powers of a court may be weakened and the fearless and effective administration of justice be interfered with. Having thus reviewed the questions likely to recur during my administration and having expressed in a summary way the position which I expect to take in recommendations to congress and in my conduct as an executive, I invoke the considerate sympathy and support of my fellow citizens and the aid of Almighty God in the discharge of my responsible duties.

HIGH SCHOOL SITE NOT APPROVED OF

E. S. Shepard Gives Several Reasons Why Location For New Building is Not Suitable

"The Times", Rhineland, Feb. 25, '09
Editor NEW NORTH:

Please give me space to spout once. It seems to me that it is quite time that an agitation was started about our proposed new High school building. As near as I can learn, in its present state the old High school building is in an unsafe and unsuitable condition for any large number of persons to congregate in, and if so, it should be made safe at once or not used. If the facts are as stated by my informants the floors are in a very shaky and wobbly condition. I have not made a personal survey of the premises but from reports gathered from the larger boys that attend there one can easily shake the whole floor so as to disturb every scholar in the room. Now before something happens that would cause us much more trouble than the matter of no school at all would, it should be looked into. There is lack of room as it now stands and the crowding of a matter of 200 children into one room is not to be thought of or tolerated if the room is not safe to carry the load especially a load of young humanity. The collapse of the floor at the Vener factory would be nothing compared to a similar smash at the school, with the favorable chance of a bad fire following. The old building, as every one knows, has been built by piece at a time methods, and by different contractors so that it might easily have happened that due regard for safety had been overlooked. This matter should be investigated at once by a competent person or persons, before disaster does occur and set at rest any apprehension on the subject.

And now right here I wish to say, while talking school house, that if the old school building is found to be unsafe or unsuitable, it should be torn down and room made for the new modern building. We must build anyway for if it is not fit for a High school building it is not fit for a ward school.

There are many good reasons why the site selected for the new school building is not fit for the purpose. The reasons are these in my opinion:

1. The location is too far to one side of the settlement of the town.
2. It would be climb up hill and down to reach it.
3. It would cost $25,000 to put it in shape to build such a building on—in grading site, streets, putting fire protection, sewers and other necessary improvements.
4. Our resources, when we get the big asylum built where the old court house stands and the mammoth City Hall done and other improvements made will be limited.
5. We might take chances on fire if it was built or started before water mains were put in, as is usually the case.
6. It would be a hard hilly run for the fire department and this should not be the case. It would be criminal negligence not to put such an institution in the most accessible place, where assistance could be rendered in time of need.
7. The six lots fronting on Brown Street, just south of the old school could be bought and the buildings removed for half what the new site could be made ready for and the new modern building would have the proper location and could be seen.

I, for one, so long as we can stand the tax do not care so much for the amount of money an improvement costs if we get what we need and value received.

A Religious Author's Statement

Rev. Joseph H. Fesperman, Salisbury, N. C., who is the author of several books, writes: "For several years I was afflicted with kidney trouble and last winter I was suddenly stricken with a severe pain in my kidneys and was confined to bed eight days unable to get up without assistance. My urine contained a thick white sediment and I passed same frequently day and night. I commenced taking Foley's Kidney, and the pain gradually abated and finally ceased and my urine finally ceased and my urine became normal. I cheerfully recommend Foley's Kidney Remedy."

LOGGING OPERATIONS AT NEWBOLD

Henry Wubker, secretary of the Newbold Land & Lumber company, was in the city, Saturday on his regular weekly visit. He says that fifty men are now at work cutting timber for his company. The season's cut will amount to two million feet of pine and hemlock. These logs will be sawed at the mill which is on Tom Doyle Lake. Mr. Wubker is somewhat of a weather prophet and predicts that this vicinity will have four more weeks of genuine winter weather.

W. W. A. PICNIC AT TOMAHAWK

Woodmen Will Make Merry at Hatchet City on July 3

The next big annual picnic of the Modern Woodmen Northeastern Wisconsin Picnic Association will be held at Tomahawk on Saturday, July 3. Elaborate arrangements are already being made by the lodge members and citizens of that city for the entertainment of the large number of visitors who are expected. It has been decided to conduct the festivities on a beautiful plot of ground near Tomahawk, known as the "Hog's Back." An effort will be made to induce the Soo railway company to run a special train from this city to Tomahawk Junction for the benefit of the crowd of Rhinelander people who desire to attend the event. E. J. Koepke, clerk of Lake Camp 1749 and one of the head officers of the picnic association, says that if suitable railroad accommodations can be had nearly all the members of the local lodge will attend. Last year the picnic was held in this city.

The Northeastern Association comprises seventeen counties, namely: Outagamie, Waupaca, Portage, Wood, Marathon, Shawano, Oconto, Marinette, Florence, Forest, Langlade, Lincoln, Oneida, Vilas, Iron, Ashland and Price.

WEDDING NOT SECRET

In the daily newspapers there appeared accounts of a secret wedding at Arbor Vitae, recently, in which it was stated that the bride and groom whose names could not be learned, came to that village in a Northwestern private car. It developed that the wedding was that of Miss Kate Cantillon and E. J. Archambault both of Chicago. The ceremony was performed in the chapel at Arbor Vitae by Rev. Father Munroe of Minocqua and no attempt was made to keep the marriage a secret. M. Cantillon, brother of the bride, was groomsmen and Miss Mae Muir of Minocqua was bridesmaid. After the wedding the party returned to Woodruff, where a breakfast was served in the private car of W. D. Cantillon, Assistant General Manager of the Northwestern road.

An Ideal Cough Medicine

"As an ideal cough medicine I regard Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in a class by itself," says Dr. R. A. Wiltshire, of Gwynnville, Ind. "I take great pleasure in testifying to the results of Chamberlain's Cough Medicine. In fact, I know of no other preparation that meets so fully the expectations of the most exacting. In cases of croup and coughs of children As it contains no opium, chloroform or morphine it certainly makes a most safe, pleasant and efficacious remedy for the ills it is intended." For sale by—F. L. Hinman & Co.

LOGGING CONDITIONS

Reports from the woods indicate the existence of unusually favorable conditions at all the logging camps. Not enough snow has fallen to hamper the operations or block up the ice roads seriously at any time during the last month, while at the same time just enough has fallen to make good snow roads for minor branches from the main ice roads and for the farmers who turn in their out put in this way. The out put of logs for the season will be all that favorable weather conditions may assist in making it.

The men in the logging camps are doing good efficient work this winter and are sticking to their jobs as they have not been known to do in previous seasons for a great many years.

NO INDIGESTION OR DYSPEPSIA

Makes Misery From an Upset Stomach Vanish in Five Minutes

Every family here ought to keep some Diapiesin in the house, as any one of you may have an attack of Indigestion or Stomach trouble at any time, day or night.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't tempt you, or what little you do eat seems to fill you, or lays like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of Indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist for a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapiesin and take one triangle after supper tonight. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapiesin is a certain cure for all stomach misery, because it will take hold of your food and digest it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Actual prompt relief for all your stomach misery is at your Pharmacist, waiting for you.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to cure a case of Dyspepsia or Indigestion.

A WORTHY ATTRACTION

"David Garrick at the Grand Opera House Monday evening was attended by a fair sized audience altho much smaller than the merits of the production warranted. Clifton Mallory, who assumes the difficult role of David Garrick, the leading character, is a talented actor. Many consider him one of the best who has ever appeared on the Rhinelander stage. He was supported by a most excellent company. If the management of the Grand secure a few more attractions of this high class nature, Rhinelander will soon regain its past reputation as a show town.

A feature of the evening much appreciated by the audience were the musical selections rendered between the acts by the Military orchestra.

PLANT GETS FREE POWER

The special election held at Eagle River, Monday, for the purpose of granting free electric power to the aluminum plant which will employ 150 hands, resulted in 153 votes for and 9 against. This in the initial industry for Eagle River's new $100,000 dam generating 1300 horsepower. Two other industries are seeking location there, one a wood working plant and the other a powder mill.

ENGINE KILLS DEER

One of the Northwestern freight engineers tells of his locomotive killing a large buck deer near Tomahawk Lake last Saturday afternoon. The deer stood in the middle of the track and the engineer blew the whistle several times in the hopes of driving it away but it refused to move. It was impossible to slacken the speed of the train in time to prevent striking the poor creature and it was thrown several yards from the track breaking its back.

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE ARTHUR W. SHELTON

Oneida County Bar Association Adopts Resolutions on the Death of Its Worthy Member

WHEREAS, death has, for the first time, entered the ranks of our Association and removed therefrom Arthur W. Shelton, our brother and friend, and

WHEREAS, we deem it proper and fitting to permanently record our tribute of affection and respect for our deceased brother;

RESOLVED, that in the death of our brother, this Bar has lost one of its most useful and highly respected members, whose clean life and honorable career have contributed much to give to our profession its high standing in this community.

RESOLVED, that we regard the taking of Mr. Shelton at this time, in the zenith of his life and accomplishments, not only as a public calamity, but as a personal loss to each member of our bar.

RESOLVED, that we extend heartfelt sympathy to the family of our deceased brother, to the City in which he lived, for the advancement of which he faithfully labored, and to the public of this community generally who have lost his faithful services and counsel.

RESOLVED, that this resolution and memorial attached hereto, be presented to the Circuit Court for this County, with the request that the same be spread upon the records of the Court, and that a copy of the same be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

MEMORIAL

Arthur Wilfred Shelton, the subject of this memorial, was born at Newport in the State of Minnesota on October 15, 1859, and died at Rhinelander, Wisconsin, November 1st, 1908.

Mr. Shelton fitted for college at Afton Academy, Minn., teaching for one year in the public schools of Pierce County, Wisconsin, after leaving the academy.

He entered the University of Wisconsin in 1879, and graduated therefrom in the class of 1883 with the degrees B. S. and B. C. E.

After attaining these degrees, he entered the Law Department of the University from which he graduated in 1885 receiving the degree of L. L. B.

While at the University Mr. Shelton was an active member of the Hesperia Literary Society; and of the Phi Beta Theta Greek Letter Fraternity. He was orator from Hesperia in the Junior exhibition, and participated in the joint debate between Hesperia and Adelpia.

On October 6th, 1886, Mr. Shelton was married to Miss Mary Howe, of Oregon, Wis., and settled in Rhinelander, then a village of about 600 people, where he engaged in the practice of law.

During the twenty-two years of his life in Rhinelander, Mr. Shelton has seen the home of his adoption grow from a mere hamlet to a prosperous city of nearly 6000 people, and by his effort and influence has materially aided its growth and prosperity.

He has held many places of honor and trust in public life, having served as District Attorney for Oneida County for two years from 1891 to 1893, and as City Attorney for several years.

In 1892 Mr. Shelton purchased the Rhinelander Herald Newspaper, and ever since has been its editor and publisher.

He also engaged in other business enterprises, and was one of the first to see the possibilities of developing the water power of the Wisconsin River electrically, and by his efforts and advocacy achieved remarkable practical results in this direction.

At the time of his death, he was president of the Rhinelander Power Co. and of the White River Power Co., two industries promoted and built up by his influence and enterprise.

Mr. Shelton brought to the practice of his profession a logical mind, well cultured, a cheerful and hopeful disposition, and an abiding optimism.

He was reserved and dignified in manner, and whether in his office, home or in the midst of legal fray, was ever the courteous gentleman.

In his practice he was open, frank, honest and full of resource never resorting to technicalities to gain advantage, but always faithful to his client and his cause.

His private life was clean and unassuming, his moral standards were high, and he lived according to these standards. His business career was conservative and practical, and in all the varied lines of thought and effort which he pursued, he rounded out the measure of manhood.

To the members of this Bar he has left the memory of a life carefully lived, of lofty ideals well worked out, of honest and sincere purpose, of faithful and attentive service, of loyal endeavor the influence of which will tend to uplift the profession which he chose to serve.

In conversation with the editor of the Tomahawk Leader, J. P. Jensen, postmaster at Cassian, this county, said that although he had heard and knew of the new rural free delivery route which starts April 1, and which is to run thru Cassian, he had as yet received no intimation from the postal authorities that the Cassian post-office would be discontinued when the rural route is started. On the contrary he expressed the belief that the office would not be dropped, as the firm which operates the saw mill near Cassian would strongly oppose such a move, as it would mean much delay in their mail service.

VINOL CURES CHRONIC COUGHS, COLDS AND BRONCHITIS After Other Remedies Fail

"I have been troubled with a chronic cold and bronchitis for a long time and have tried many remedies without finding relief. Through the kind suggestion of a friend I tried Vinol, and after taking four bottles, am entirely cured." A. H. Wilde, 732-5th Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn.

S. McDonald, 147 W. Congress St. Paul, Minn., writes: "I contracted a severe cold last winter and thought I would never get rid of it. I tried Vinol as a last resort, and it has completely cured me."

Vinol combines two world-famed tonics, the healing, medicinal properties of cod liver oil and tonic iron, deliciously palatable and agreeable to the weakest stomach. For this reason, Vinol is unexcelled as a strength-builder for old people, delicate children, weak and run-down persons, after sickness and for Chronic Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis.

JOHN J. BEARDON, RHINELANDER, WIS.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

Senators Kean of New Jersey and Penrose of Pennsylvania put themselves in the limelight when they interposed objection to Senator Burkett of Nebraska continuing a speech he was making on the Senate rules. Senator Kean objected because he said Mr. Burkett was using personalities. There was no ground for such assertion as the Nebraskan was speaking in a perfectly impersonal way. But when the Jerseyite was whipped upon the facts Penrose came to the front by asserting his senatorial prerogative to object. He did not like the line of talk the Senate was getting. So under the rule the Nebraskan had to sit down and keep still for a time.

Such tactics only emphasize the necessity of a reorganization of the Senate committees. That reorganization is bound to come and Penrose and Kean and the old organization have adopted tactics which have thoroughly aroused other Senators especially those who come from the west and are in favor of a square deal.

With an appropriation record of one billion, one hundred million dollars and a record for not having passed a single piece of legislation of benefit to the entire country, the 60th Congress comes to its end. It was one of the prize do-nothing sessions of Congress in the country's history. The Congress came into session possessed of no fear of the Big Stick. The President would retire. Election is two years off for those members who succeeded at the last election. They had no incentive to work at this for there is plenty of time to make a showing at another session.

Although the country is clamoring for legislation to correct transportation abuses the committee on interstate commerce of the House and of the Senate did not report a single measure of any importance. The one measure that could be made of importance was the Fulton bill in the Senate and that came out with an adverse report. The only reason it was permitted to see day light was that it was understood its author desired it to aid him in securing support for re-election in the Oregon legislature and that he had no serious intention of pushing it for passage. The intimation of an agreement of this kind is confirmed by his subsequent action. At no time from the day it was reported until the close of the session did he make a serious effort to have it taken up for consideration. The Senate jockeyed the postal savings bank bill all through the session and in its closing days Senator Carter brought in a substitute bill as full of snakes as the Mississippi bluffs back of Prairie du Chien.

United States Senator Isaac Stephenson, without a certificate of election but armed with a certified copy of the journals of the separate houses of the Wisconsin legislature of the date when the first vote on United States Senator was taken, will on March 4 claim that he was re-elected to the United States Senate and demand that he be sworn in, as a Senator from that state for the next six years. This information comes from members of the committee on privileges and elections of the Senate who claim that they have been informed as to this intention and who see in such a course some work ahead for them at this special session.

It is claimed also that Mr. Stephenson intends to make a statement upon the floor of the Senate in regard to conditions in Wisconsin and particularly in relation to the votes which have been taken by the legislature to elect his successor. Senator Burrows of Michigan, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections has discussed the matter with a number of senators. The discussion has developed that there is quite a division of sentiment in the Senate as to the regularity of such a proceeding. It seems certain that the demand based upon the mere certified record of a legislature will not be regarded as well founded and that the Senate will be loathe to grant the request of Mr. Stephenson without further investigation.

The precedent for presenting the claim to election in this manner was made back in the nineties when the Addicks fight first started in Delaware. Mr. DuPont came to the Senate hearing certified copies of the actions of the separate houses of the Delaware legislature. He got into the Senate and in person presented these copies and demanded that the oath be administered to him. Of course the Senate did not administer the oath but it referred the documents to the committee on privileges and elections. After a considerable hearing and going into the matter the committee on privileges and elections reported in favor of seating Mr. DuPont. The Senate however failed to take any action upon the report and Mr. DuPont was never seated and was not sworn in as a senator.
